Russia is the biggest country in the world. It is bigger than China, America and Canada. It extends across the whole of northern Asia and forty percent of Europe. This is why Asia is larger than Europe. It has the largest forest reserves and one quarter of the world's fresh water. In comparison, the Vatican City is the smallest state in the world. It is much smaller than Russia and in particular Rome, the city which surrounds this magnificent state.

- 1. What is the biggest country in the world?
- 3. Which continent is smaller than Asia? _____
